Through my political science professor Paul Frank at Sacramento City college, he was really able to engage my interest in politics. Politics is a very vital topic it makes up everything that is today it consists of many ideologies that make up the country we live in today, the United States of America. Paul Frank is an excellent teacher, he has a lot of key points that he makes during his lectures. One that struck me well was when he said "you have to practice democracy" when he said that it sparked in my mind that since I live in America, a heavy political influenced country in which practices Democracy, as a Citizen I to should practice Democracy. I am qualified to be apart of the city advisory body because I feel like through the strong interest I have in politics, I will be able to emanate work ethic and attitude that will drive me to do well in this position.

I would like to be part of the Youth Commission body to become more involved in my community and city. I would like to affect change not just in my school, but in the community as well. I am a member of my school's Associated Student Body, and I am currently serving as Sophomore Class Governor. As well as a student leader, I am a student athlete. I am in the swim team, in which I am varsity co-captain. I am, also, a member of Key Club. Through this club, I participate in community events and I get service hours. By being involved in my school, I stay organized to keep my grades up and I am responsible to accomplish what I sign up for. I would like to

I love volunteering in the Sacramento community and being involved. As I entered high school, I noticed how kids my age were spending their free times doing things that harm their futures and them. Teens think they can't have fun unless drugs or alcohol are involved. I would like to be a member of the city advisory body to try and help the youth in Sacramento find positive and fun activities to do on their free time. I frequently volunteer at St. Philomene Parish to distribute food to the homeless on Tuesday nights, and also spent 96 hours this summer volunteering at Tarbiyah Summer Camp. I work hard in my studies and tutor to help those who fall behind. I care about my peers, and I think that if I was on the city advisory body, I could help more people my age.
