Background

The City of Sacramento's Recreation Division provides programs tailored to persons with disabilities through its Access Leisure section. One of these program components includes camping experiences for teens.

The Contra Costa Youth Council (CCYC) has asked the Parks and Recreation Department's Access Leisure section to staff and manage a two-week summer wilderness camping program for teens with disabilities at Camp Nejedly in the summer of 2009. CCYC serves children regionally with an annual camping session consisting of two one-week camps. Approximately 16 teens will be served each week. CCYC provides a genuine camping experience; campers come to experience and enjoy the outdoors in a rustic and challenging wilderness environment. By providing this camping experience, teens that may not otherwise be able to participate in mainstream camping experiences will be able to participate in an activity that all teens routinely enjoy.

Teens will have use of the CCYC Camp Nejedly facility at Hawley Lake, located in Sierra County near the Plumas-Eureka State Park and the adjacent towns of Johnsville, Graeagle and Quincy. City staff will organize and operate all aspects of the camping program excluding the provision for transportation for all participants, staff and volunteers which will be provided by CCYC
