Description/Analysis

Issue: On October 13, 2009, the City Council adopted an ordinance that dissolved and re-established the Parks and Recreation Commission ("PRC"). The ordinance provided for staggered terms for the PRC members; however, the method of staggering created an unbalanced distribution of term expirations among the members.

Policy Considerations: Should the method of staggering the terms of the PRC members be revised to more evenly distribute the number of terms that expire at any given time.

Environmental Considerations: None.

California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA): None.

Sustainability Considerations: None.

Commission/Committee Action: On September 21, 2010 the Law and Legislation Committee approved forwarding this issue to the City Council for approval.

Rationale for Recommendation: To stagger terms among the members of the PRC to provide for a more balanced distribution of term expirations.

Financial Considerations: None.

Emerging Small Business Development (ESBD): Not applicable.

Background:

On October 13, 2009, the City Council adopted Ordinance 2009-044 that dissolved and re-established the Parks and Recreation Commission (“PRC”). The ordinance provided for staggered terms for the PRC members; however, the method of staggering created an unbalanced distribution of term expirations among the members.

Currently, the staggering distribution is as follows:

Nominating Authority	Current Term Length	Current Expiration
Mayor	4	2014
District 1	4	2014
District 2	2	2012
District 3	4	2014
District 4	2	2012
District 5	4	2014
District 6	2	2012
District 7	4	2014
District 8	2	2012
P&PE (2 seats)	1	2011

This distribution creates a potential Brown Act compliance issue when the five appointees recommended by the members of the City Council from the odd numbered council districts and by the Mayor are up for re-appointment. The problem occurs when five members of the City Council are reviewing applications under the same subject matter at the same time. For this group of five seats, under the current staggering method, the review of applications is required to be agendaized before the full City Council. This process is not necessary for the four appointees recommended by the members of the City Council from the even numbered council districts because a quorum of the City Council (five) would not be reviewing the same subject matter at the same time. To standardize the application review process for all nominees, the simplest approach would be to change the term expiration of three members.

Staff’s recommendation is to decrease the Mayoral nominee from a 4 year to a 3 year term; and increase the P&PE Committee nominees from a 1 year to a 3 year term. This would balance the terms and also standardize the review process without having to agendaize the applicant review process for a portion of the membership. The changes to the lengths of the terms would apply retroactively to the effective date of Ordinance 2009-044.

The revised staggering distribution would be as follows:

Nominating Authority	Current Term Length	Current Expiration	Proposed Term Length	Proposed Expiration	Comment
Mayor	4	2014	3	2013	1 Yr. Less
District 1	4	2014	4	2014	Same
District 2	2	2012	2	2012	Same
District 3	4	2014	4	2014	Same
District 4	2	2012	2	2012	Same
District 5	4	2014	4	2014	Same
District 6	2	2012	2	2012	Same
District 7	4	2014	4	2014	Same
District 8	2	2012	2	2012	Same
P&PE (2 seats)	1	2011	3	2013	2 Yrs. More
