We're one of California's most vibrant communities.

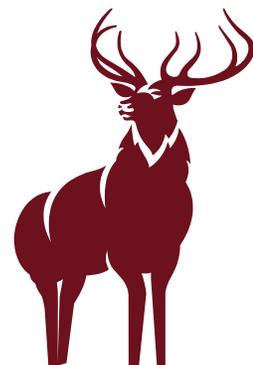

A blend of historic charm and cutting edge advancement. There's a lot to be proud of here in Elk Grove. We created E-tran – a fleet of zero-emission hybrid buses to help the environment and relieve traffic congestion. We developed public-private partnerships to preserve wildlife and protect habitat and open space. We're revitalizing Old Town and improving the drive. And now we're looking ahead to creating new community gathering places and shopping destinations that we can all enjoy.

Just imagine what we can accomplish together in the next five years!

Chair's Message

GARY ORR
2005/2006 SACTO CHAIR
VICE PRESIDENT,
WELLS FARGO & COMPANY

As SACTO enters its 31st year of service, it is my honor and privilege to serve as your 2005/2006 Chair.

Today our region benefits from being a tremendous economic and population growth area in California, as families and businesses are lured by an outstanding quality of life and rich opportunities offered by a strong and diverse regional economy. Our infrastructure, which includes world-class educational institutions, growing technology and life sciences industries, and increased alliance and cooperation within the region, puts SACTO in a strong position in recruiting businesses here.

Our business attraction activity is at its highest level in three years. What has changed is the size and type of our projects, now representing much larger and well-known companies. SACTO is currently working to relocate several headquarter operations, and several national and international technology-related research, development and manufacturing facilities. This new activity is related to the following trends: large corporations more confident to grow or make major moves; major mergers and acquisitions; and the growing stature of the Sacramento Region.

SACTO continues to aggressively market the region, representing the region at targeted conferences and trade shows throughout the country and overseas, and garnering national and international media attention. Recent story headlines promote the strength, diversity and growth of our economy, while Sacramento was ranked in the "Top 50 Entrepreneurial Cities" by Entrepreneur Magazine. Most visible this year was the region making the short list for the bid to become home to the headquarter for the California Institute for Regenerative Medicine (CIRM).

The upcoming year presents many challenges and opportunities. SACTO will continue to help lead the way in its efforts to create an even stronger, more diversified economy for our region's cities and counties, and companies and employees through SACTO's new five-year strategic plan entitled "Building a First-Tier Economy." The plan provides SACTO with the framework, resources and tools to recruit more high-value jobs for the region; assist the organization's efforts in generating business opportunities through increased branding and marketing of the region; and allow SACTO to execute a regional economic strategy through participation in Partnership for Prosperity, a project the organization helped launch last year.

The Sacramento Region has benefited from SACTO's efforts in the last 30 years through job growth and billions of dollars in corporate investment. As one of the country's most successful economic development organizations,

SACTO's Board of Directors is committed to continuing to position SACTO as the region's leading facilitator of economic development, pursuing investment and jobs needed to ensure our economy's continued prosperity and global-competitiveness.

SACTO's success in working towards its mission is ultimately made possible through the generous support of our members. Members invest critical dollars to accomplish SACTO's goals and fulfill the many programs and services we offers businesses. They also invest their time to serve on various boards, committees and task forces associated with the organization. Membership in SACTO is at an all-time high and is an indicator of how members feel the positive impact of their investment is reflected in our regional economy. In fact, a recent SACTO member satisfaction survey shows that the majority of our members (92 percent) belong to SACTO because they believe they are making a long-term investment in the region's future.

I look forward to working together towards our goal of Building a First-Tier Economy, which helps set the stage to face the region's future challenges and create its opportunities. On behalf of SACTO's 2005/2006 Officers and Board of Directors, we thank you for your continued confidence and support.

SACTO Programs and Services

What is SACTO?

The Sacramento Area Commerce and Trade Organization (SACTO) is the leading facilitator of economic development for the Sacramento Region. It brings together the organizations, information and resources in the pursuit of jobs, talent and investment needed to ensure the region's prosperity and global competitiveness. Established in 1975, SACTO is a private, non-profit and member-supported economic development organization and serves El Dorado, Placer, Sacramento, Sutter, Yolo and Yuba counties.

SACTO has been involved in nearly every major new company location to the area and instrumental in the recruitment of some of the world's most prestigious companies, including HP, Intel and NEC Electronics. Combining research, professional economic development practices and member guidance, SACTO's efforts have generated billions of dollars of investment in the region's economy.

SACTO Programs and Services your Membership Supports

Region's Leading Marketer: SACTO collaborates with a team of regional partners to represent and promote the region through marketing and recruitment missions throughout the U.S. and overseas to attract quality business to the area and strengthen ties with companies already in the area. It distributes marketing material — including proprietary economic data from the Sacramento Regional Research Institute (SRRI), a joint partnership of SACTO and California State University, Sacramento — to generate interest in the region.

Region's Business Headquarters:

SACTO connects businesses with the resources necessary when evaluating, planning and implementing a site location or expansion in the Sacramento Region. SACTO facilitates their site selection needs — including representing the region's key decision makers such as financial, legal, government, regulatory and real estate professionals, providing proprietary research/data, conducting site searches and site tours, facilitating planning and consultation meetings — and everything in between. SACTO's assistance and services are always conducted privately and confidentially.

A newly-adopted five-year business attraction and marketing plan, "Building a First-Tier Economy," will provide SACTO with the framework, resources and tools to recruit more high-value jobs for the region. It will also assist SACTO's efforts in generating business opportunities through increased branding and marketing of the region; and allow SACTO to execute a regional economic strategy through participation in Partnership for Prosperity, a project the organization helped launch last year.

Guiding the Region's Economic

Efforts: SACTO helps the region identify and maximize its potential by collaborating with its partners to work on regional economic issues, and help build the infrastructure to attract and maintain a workforce required for businesses which locate to the region. As a result, it helps create opportunities for the region — its businesses, communities and people.

Why Your Membership is Important

SACTO — on behalf of the Sacramento Region — competes with many other regions and cities across the United States. SACTO's primary funding comes from its members. Therefore, its ability to provide its programs and services rests on member support.

More than 525 member companies and organizations invest in SACTO because they support and believe in its mission to ensure an active thriving regional economy. In fact, a recent SACTO member satisfaction survey shows that the majority of members (92%) belong to SACTO because they believe they are making a long-term investment in the Sacramento Region's future. Members represent the most prominent businesses and community leaders across the region from a wide range of industries including healthcare and life sciences, technology, manufacturing, legal and financial services, real estate and development, and government.

SACTO Programs and Services

A volunteer Board of Directors comprised of the region's business and political leaders guide the organization's efforts.

SACTO helps members be on the inside track of the region's business community through offering them access to the latest economic data and information, unique business and marketing opportunities and valuable contact with key regional players.

Benefits include:

- First knowledge of new company location and expansion announcements
- Subscription to The Insider member newsletter
- Subscription to the Sacramento Regional Research Institute's signature Economy Watch
- Complimentary copy of the Sacramento Region Economic Profile
- Committee and Board of Director involvement opportunities

- Event sponsorship and advertising opportunities
- Invitation to annual SACTO events
- Preferred access to newly located company officials

SACTO Events

Salute to New Industry: Held each fall, this event provides an opportunity to meet companies first hand that have recently located in the region. It also includes a presentation of SACTO's Annual Report, the announcement of the new Board of Directors, and an opportunity to conduct corporate business.

Trainor Robertson/SACTO Golf Tournament: Also held in the fall, at premiere golf courses in the region.

SACTO Membership Celebration: Held each fall and spring, this informal event is designed to highlight SACTO's membership and gives members and guests an opportunity to network and meet other members.

Residents of the Western United States flock to its neighborhoods in nineteen communities in California and Nevada where they find unique spaces for living at an affordable price. Cox Broadcasting, Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., Federal Express Corporation, Intuit, Inc., Peregrine Systems, Inc., Kraft Foods, and International Paper Company are only a few of the nationally recognized companies who are thriving in the commercial spaces they've created for them.

As a real estate development and investment firm, The Allen Group is dedicated to the development of high-end office, industrial, and residential real estate. It has developed approximately 4.5 million square feet of commercial net leased properties and over 30 new facilities for credit tenants in the last six years. Its residential division has completed well over 500 homes and is currently developing 2,000 units that will be completed over the next two years.

Furthermore, over the next three years it will develop well over one million square feet of Class A office space in the Sacramento and San Diego marketplaces. They are currently developing two major industrial parks in the San Joaquin Valley of California and a 444-acre Mid-State 99 Distribution Center is currently under development in Visalia, California. The International Trade and Transportation Center (ITTC) is also being developed in the community of Shafter just north of Bakersfield, California. The ITTC will encompass over 700 acres and include an inter-modal rail facility and enterprise zone.

Beazer Home Northern California is the Northern California operating division of Beazer Homes USA, Inc., the sixth largest builder in the US in terms of single family detached home closings, (16,451 in fiscal 2004). Beazer Homes USA builds homes in 31 divisions, located in 19 states. Its largest divisions are located in Southern Nevada, Northern California, Southern California, Virginia, Indiana and Arizona. Beazer's Northern California market strategy focuses on building high quality homes targeted to entry-level and first-time move-up home buyers. They also offer buyers mortgage, design, and homeowner insurance services.

The company was founded in 1985, is headquartered in Atlanta, Georgia, and has been listed on the New York Stock Exchange since 1994 under the symbol "BZH". The Sacramento Valley operation was founded in 1994 and was the first division the company built from scratch, as opposed to acquisition. Locally, it has built, builds, or plans to build, in all the major homebuilding submarkets including Roseville, Rocklin, Lincoln, Folsom, Western El Dorado County, Laguna Creek, Elk Grove, West Sacramento, Natomas, Antelope, Yuba and any attractive infill location. Beazer also recently started operations headquartered in Fresno, CA.

With 1,400 homes closings in fiscal 2004, Beazer Homes Northern California is one of the largest builders in the Sacramento Metropolitan area. The division directly employs approximately 190 persons and indirectly employs thousands more through subcontractor and supplier relationships. The company and division are currently focused on re-creating the company's brand with a primary focus on optimizing the customer experience.

Blue Shield of California is one of the state's leading health plans, with one of the fastest growing HMOs and California's largest PPO physician network.

The not-for-profit company has a distinguished history. It was created by the California Medical Association in 1939, becoming the first medical service prepayment plan available to the public. Among its many "firsts," Blue Shield was the first health plan to cover a heart transplant.

Blue Shield's mission has always been to arrange for the delivery of high quality, comprehensive, affordable health care to consumers. The company continuously seeks to improve consumer access to high-quality healthcare. Accordingly, management and staff are committed to developing innovative health plan products in response to consumers' expressed needs.

The company has introduced several recent innovations to give consumers more control over their healthcare. Access+HMO was the first California health plan to give HMO members direct access to medical specialists in members' doctor's medical groups. In 1998, Blue Shield introduced Mylifepath.com, the first on-line health management tool that can be customized by members to deliver requested health information.

More recently, Blue Shield became the first health plan in the country to offer members slated for surgery a comprehensive guided imagery program. Through words, music and images, guided imagery helps members tap into their natural power to relax and heal.

The responses of consumers and the marketplace indicate that Blue Shield is on the right track. The company is experiencing excellent growth in both HMO and PPO membership. Today, Blue Shield has 2.3 million members and generates annual revenue of $3.5 billion.

For over 30 years, Brown Construction has been committed to building communities from the ground up. They are a skilled team of 100 industry experts, focusing on commercial, institutional and multi-family residential projects. They successfully deliver both general contractor and construction management services, and specialize in design/build and design/assist projects.

The company's real foundation is in the trust it develops through respect and partnership with its clients, both in the private and public sectors. The commitment to their clients is as strong as the solid structures they design and construct. On all projects, from rehabilitations to multi-site commercial complexes, they focus on client needs and resources every bit as much as designs and materials.

Communication is the centerpiece of their project approach. They are dedicated to an open exchange of ideas with all team members including owners, developers, architects, consultants and tenants. This ongoing dialogue helps ensure the construction of a successful facility that best meets its' intended use, on schedule and within budget.

The Building Industry Association (BIA) of Superior California, Inc., is an organization of builders, developers, subcontractors, suppliers, and related professionals dedicated to the advancement of the construction industry. Over the past sixty-one years (1944-2005) the Association and its members have been providing quality homes and neighborhoods for the people of the Sacramento region.

Serving as the representative voice of members within its northern California twenty county region, the BIA reflects the combined efforts of those dedicated professionals concerned with the issues facing the building industry. Through the BIA, members can confront and obtain solutions to a multitude of building-related problems. The BIA, like any trade association, is a conduit of business information linking the individual member to the entire industry by providing informational, educational and technical services.

Thanks to the dedication and involvement of its members during the past sixty years, the BIA has evolved into a powerful trade association serving the needs of more than 850 individual and company members.

The company's mission: "To provide a High Quality Product at a Highly Competitive Price."

Butterfield Electric Inc. was started by Rick Butterfield out of his garage in 1985 as an Industrial Service Electrical Contracting Company in Woodland, California. After college and before starting Butterfield Electric, Rick worked for Mobil Chemical in their Stratford Conn. Plant. He transferred to the Woodland, California plant and worked in the engineering department as the electrical supervisor. Butterfield Electric went from 1 to 10 service vans at which time an office was opened in Woodland. In 1990 the company expanded into Commercial Construction and in 1999 moved to our current location just off of Interstate 5, five minutes north of the Sacramento International Airport.

Butterfield Electric Inc. has grown to become one the top 10 Electrical Contractors in the Sacramento Valley area as listed in the Sacramento Business Journal for 2003, completing multi-million dollar projects with annual sales of approximately 20 million dollars in 2004. At peak season they employ 200 plus electricians in the field and have a full support staff of over 30 employees.

Services include:

Construction: They offer experience in the following construction areas, including but not limited to: Aerospace, Agriculture, Assisted Living Facilities, Churches, Commercial Light and Heavy, Distribution Warehouses, Education, Food Processing, Gas Stations, Grocery Stores, Health Facilities, Industrial Facilities, Medium Voltage (12KV), Motels Multi-use Museums, Restaurants, Retail, Site Lighting, Site Utilities, Special Projects, Tenant Improvements, Technical Facilities, Theaters, and Veterinary Hospitals.

Design/Build: Full project cycle design development from conception to final completion. A pre-construction co-ordinate system allows for rapid response to ongoing revisions throughout the project life cycle. Pre-construction consulting focused on a seamless transfer from design to construction. They constantly are value engineering each phase of the design process to get the greatest value for customers by implementing new technology and coordinating with local utility companies on their incentive programs.

Safety: A full time Safety Officer regularly visits every jobsite to ensure all safety measures are followed to the fullest and that each electrician has all the training and competent certifications necessary. Their number one Asset is their Employees.

Service Departments: With fully equipped service vans, professional service technicians are qualified to diagnose and repair any electrical repair needed, 24 hours per day, seven days a weeks in the commercial, industrial or residential markets. They also specialize in telephone and data communications cabling. Their number one priority is always customer service and customer satisfaction.

The company recognizes that its success and future depends on its ability to keep the customer satisfied. Their mission is to provide a high quality installation at a highly competitive price. Their highest priority is to the safety of workmen on the jobsite. Full time project management teams are dedicated to maintaining the construction schedule throughout each and every project. They invest in apprenticeship and continuous training programs to ensure that the company's workforce today and in the future has "The Power to Perform" for its customer needs.

Dallas-based Centex Homes (www.centexhomes.com) is one of the nation's leading homebuilders, operating in more than 90 U.S. markets in 26 states. To date, it has built more than 350,000 homes. This diversity, as well as geographic expansion, has been a key contributor to Centex Homes' success. In 1999, Centex Corporation became the first U.S. homebuilder to enter the United Kingdom with the acquisition of Fairclough Homes.

Centex Homes primarily builds neighborhoods of detached, single-family homes. In recent years, they've become increasingly competitive in various residential construction segments. These brands include: value-oriented/entry-level (primarily through our Fox & Jacobs Homes brand); on-your-lot (Wayne Homes brand); resort/second homes; active adult; and urban in-fill.

Centex Homes expects to deliver more than 30,000 homes during its fiscal year ending March 31, 2004. The company is a subsidiary of Centex Corporation (NYSE: CTX), a Fortune 250 company.

The Sacramento Division of Centex Homes sold over 775 single-family homes in the Sacramento metropolitan area in its last fiscal year. Centex Homes' Sacramento division was recently ranked by J.D. Power and Associates as "Highest in Customer Satisfaction among New Home Builders in Sacramento for two years in a Row, tied in 2003." This top honor demonstrates Centex's commitment to going the extra mile in every aspect of the home buying and building process.

Locally, the Sacramento division of Centex Homes is building new neighborhoods throughout the greater Sacramento region including: Folsom, El Dorado Hills, Rocklin, Roseville, Elk Grove, Woodland, and Lincoln.

Centex Corporation (www.centex.com), through other subsidiaries, ranks as one of the nation's largest non-bank-affiliated retail mortgage loan originators and general building contractors. Centex also has operations in home pest management and investment real estate.

With more than 50 years of experience, excellence and success to draw from, Centex Homes' mission is simple: To build quality homes and neighborhoods that exceed the expectations they have established with their customers. Their goal is satisfied customers who recommend the company without reservation.

governing body is capable of creating a customer friendly experience for its citizens. The 'customer oriented' form of government that has been infused in the city's service delivery has proven to be successful. The "One-Stop Shop" in City Hall allows citizens to receive services in one place, rather than traveling from one department to the next. As a result, the level of service that is being provided by the city surpasses citizens' expectations.

Citrus Heights rests in the Sacramento Valley approximately 11 miles east of downtown Sacramento. The city is known for its central suburban setting. The City Council adopted a 558-acre Redevelopment Plan in July of 1998. The Plan focuses on revitalization of the city's commercial corridors with an emphasis on the shopping area known as Sunrise MarketPlace. The City Council established the Sunrise MarketPlace business improvement district in 1999. This 10-block business district is the Citrus Heights main commercial district. The City has a comprehensive Economic Development Strategy and a full-time Economic Development Manager who focuses on business retention and attraction and on enhancing the city's major commercial corridors. The City is developing an Auburn Boulevard Specific Plan to guide the redevelopment of this two-mile corridor between Sylvan Corners and Interstate 80.

Long known as an idyllic setting in which to live and raise a family, the university town of Davis has recognized the need to create a balanced economic base and jobs within the community. Located just 13 miles west of Sacramento, the city has a population of over 64,000 and is home to the University of California, Davis.

Davis has zoned over 250 acres for commercial use. All sites are appropriately zoned and most have infrastructure improvements in place. Nestled between Sacramento and the Bay Area, Davis also has growing biotech and high-tech clusters, with over 60 such companies located within the city.

With over 30,000 students, the UC Davis campus is one of the nation's top 20 universities in research funding. The university's heightened interest in strengthening ties with industry presents unprecedented opportunities to companies locating in Davis.

Davis is enriched by work force ideally suited to technology and knowledge-based companies seeking skilled research and support associates. Davis also has one of the premier local school systems in the state with some of the highest scholastic achievement test scores in the region.

Davis has a small town friendliness with an international flavor and a quality of life that distinguishes it from other communities in the Sacramento region. Davis residents are afforded a rich tapestry of entertainment, arts, recreation and cultural events.

Folsom is a full-service city located 20 miles east of Sacramento in the Sierra foothills. Situated on U. S. 50, Folsom is 40 minutes from Sacramento International Airport and even closer to the Mather air cargo/general aviation airport. Light Rail will soon connect Folsom to downtown Sacramento. Set among native oaks and grasslands, the city borders Folsom Lake and encompasses approximately 23 square miles. Folsom enjoys a healthy mix of residential, commercial and industrial development. Intel Corporation, Mercy Hospital, and Folsom State Prison are notable employers. Because of the City's water quality, Gekkeikan Sake and Kikkoman located manufacturing plants here. Verizon Wireless has developed an expansive campus in the city, and Kaiser Permanente recently announced plans to develop a medical campus in Folsom. Costco, Lowe's, REI, Trader Joe's, Sam's Club, and Best Buy are now open. The Folsom Auto Mall continues to be a success with easy access and visibility from U.S. 50. Broadstone Plaza, including Home Depot and Borders, has developed a significant retail center within the city.

Folsom population is 63,800. Individuals and families are attracted to Folsom's many features, including its Historic and Central Business Districts, Folsom Factory Outlets, City Zoo, new Aquatic Center, many parks and trails (there are 42 parks within the city and over 19 miles of paved bicycle/pedestrian trails connecting to the extensive State trail system along the American River), excellent schools and a variety of housing choices. Folsom's many amenities make it a desirable place to live, work, and play.

protection, and emergency medical services and extensive library hours. Roseville Electric provides the highest reliability and lowest electric rates of any electric utility in the region. In addition, the City's Environmental Utilities Department provides excellent water treatment, wastewater disposal, refuse collection, and recycled water services to customers at very competitive rates. The City operates Woodcreek Golf Club, Diamond Oaks Golf Course, Adventure Club before and after school child care, Roseville Transit and award-winning park and recreation programs and facilities.

Roseville is home to many of the largest employers in the Sacramento region. HP, NEC Electronics, Union Pacific, Agilent Technologies, and SureWest provide employment opportunities for an educated workforce. Roseville's small businesses are strong and growing with an average of two new business licenses issued each day in our growing City. Roseville continues to be a regional retail destination with the Roseville Auto Mall, Westfield Galleria at Roseville, and many other commercial centers drawing shoppers in search of value-priced goods, home furnishings, and electronics. Central Roseville is home to the Roseville Civic Center, a variety of small shops, art galleries, and now two live theaters with the Roseville Theatre and newly-renovated Tower Theater offering performances. Sutter Roseville Hospital and Kaiser Permanente provide a full array of medical services including Level II trauma services. Major expansions are planned at both facilities to better serve South Placer's growing population. The City's business-friendly City Council works cooperatively with many agencies to make Roseville a great place to live, work, shop and do business.

As the capitol city of California, the sixth largest economy in the world, Sacramento is uniquely poised to "capitalize" on many of the trends in economic development today. The City's goals are to diversify the regional economy, promote and facilitate targeted private sector investment within the City, and provide quality city services to improve the public/private coordination of regulatory activities.

The City has adopted a comprehensive Economic Development Strategy for 2000-2005 which provides a framework for establishing the economic development policies, priorities and strategies of the City.

The City's specific economic development policies are to provide a focus for economic development initiatives; solidify the City's leadership role in the region; improve the coordination of human and financial resources; diversify the City's tax base; increase employment opportunities; and strengthen linkages between economic development and viable neighborhoods.

The strategy specifically focuses on attraction of targeted industries and businesses; retention and expansion of existing industries and businesses; and positioning the City to compete in international, national and regional markets.

The Sacramento City Council functions as the Economic Development Commission for the City. The City participates in the county-wide Economic Development Cabinet and works very closely with SACTO, the Sacramento Area Marketing Group, and the Northern California World Trade Center on marketing and business attraction activities.

Located on the west bank of the Sacramento River, opposite downtown Sacramento and the State Capitol, West Sacramento's renaissance is well underway with the new West Sacramento Civic Center and Galleria, a new downtown centerpiece. Thousands of new residents discovering West Sacramento's master-planned, new home communities such as Bridgeway Lakes, have propelled us into the 10th fastest-growing city in the state. The riverfront is the latest residential "hot spot" with The Rivers, offering new homes with a scenic riverfront view amid acres of natural preserves, trails and a new K-8 charter school.

Just 10 minutes from West Sacramento are the research and resources of UC Davis, a national leader in biological sciences, engineering, nanotechnology, agriculture and viticulture. Access to an abundant and skilled regional workforce is an attractive asset to the city's growing biomedical cluster including The Jackson Laboratory, Affymetrix Inc. and Lipomics Technologies, Inc. West Sacramento's robust business advantages include a California Enterprise Zone, offering state tax credits, a Free Trade Zone, a HUB Zone, (preferences to companies bidding on federal contracts), and a similar zone, TACPA, offering preferences to companies bidding on state contracts. West Sacramento continues to be an oasis for manufacturing companies, as evidenced by the recent arrival of a new CertainTeed window manufacturing plant.

Woodland was founded in 1854 and incorporated as a City under the State of California in 1871. Situated in the agriculturally rich Yolo County, Woodland today boasts a population of approximately 53,178 residents, a diversified industrial base, regional commerce, and a good balance between jobs and housing. The Woodland Community College, the local schools system, and nearby UC Davis provide excellent educational opportunities. Interstate 5 and State Route 113 are key elements of the City's traffic system while Interstate 80 is just 10 miles away.

The City is governed by a five member, elected City Council. The City offers Woodland citizens a full array of municipal services including police and fire protection; water, sewer, and storm drainage services; street maintenance; parks, recreational opportunities for all ages, senior services, aquatics, community cemetery; planning, building inspection, housing and redevelopment services; public transit; and a public library with literacy services.

As a member of SACTO, the City of Woodland seeks to attract business clusters that appeal to high-technology enterprises in addition to those that compliment the rich agricultural heritage of the region. Woodland's premier location and business facility environment will appeal to software engineering, biotechnology and light manufacturing. These industry clusters will enjoy a campus-like environment and high quality of life.

"It's all about business loans and deposit services. We make it work, we get things done, and we do it fast."

At Comerica, they listen, they understand, they make it work. These words speak to the very core of its being and the character of its people. The principles behind these words have been central to the company's history and culture and are the reasons for its success. By listening and understanding, Comerica business bankers bring superior financial solutions to the middle market, i.e., make it work. And "making it work" is the hallmark of Comerica's middle market business lending. They are committed to "making it work" in the nine-county region by bringing to the marketplace the ability to make credit decisions locally and by delivering quality treasury management products to the customer base.

"Making it work" requires experience, expertise, and commitment. It requires the drive to get creative credit structures approved and effective deposit structures installed. It requires ingenuity, flexibility, focus and the initiative to look at things in a new way. To really get things done in business, there's a big difference in being willing to help and being able to help. After a century and a half, Comerica remains the leader in business banking, very simply, because they make it work, they get things done, and they do it fast.

Comerica's Sacramento office industry specialties include wineries, food processing, building materials, waste management and construction. The broader product and service lines include asset based loans, working capital loans, both traditional and reducing revolvers, equipment financing, commercial mortgages for owner-occupied real estate, tax incentive financing, export/import financing, rolling stock loans, state-of-the-art treasury management products and services, retirement services and institutional trust, international finance and trade services.

From the foothills above the Sacramento Valley through the rugged mountains to Lake Tahoe, in the heart of California's "Gold Country", El Dorado County has a terrain as diverse as its inhabitants. The pioneering spirit that drew the gold seekers of yesterday still prospers among its current business owners. The county remains a land that is rich in opportunity.

Given the County of El Dorado's central location, abundant labor pool, significant incentive package and all the essential "Quality of Life" elements, El Dorado County can offer its business community the type of environment necessary to ensure a successful and profitable operation.

The County of El Dorado is dedicated to working with businesses on a partnership basis in order to reach mutually desirable goals. The Office of Economic Development provides a comprehensive business assistance program throughout the County by supporting business attraction, retention/expansion and an entrepreneurship program that provides resources and services to high growth start-up businesses locating within the County.

The County of Placer, located 80 miles northeast of San Francisco and 20 miles west of Reno, spans 1,416 square miles of diverse climate and geography. Home to the 1960 Winter Olympic Games in Squaw Valley, Placer County boasts the largest concentration of world-class ski resorts west of the Rockies, whereas foothill and valley communities experience milder climates and provide a myriad of scenic vistas. Recreation, culture, and entertainment enhance the quality of life in Placer County, while the rapid population growth currently being experienced assures a broad employment base.

Considered to be seismically stable, Placer County is home to many high-tech firms such as NEC, Hewlett-Packard, and Coherent, as well as other corporate distribution centers including Herman-Miller, Ace Hardware, Formica, Federal Express, and Albertson's. Excellent transportation corridors provide numerous options for distribution of products, while Sacramento International Airport, located 6 miles southwest of Placer County, provides passenger and freight service by most major carriers. Affordable residential real estate and comparatively inexpensive commercial and industrial space make Placer County an exceptional combination of a great place to live and work.

The Office of Economic Development strives to provide business assistance throughout the County to support retention, growth, and expansion of existing businesses, and to attract new businesses while working to promote two-way communication between the public sector and the business community.

Sacramento County was formed in 1850 as one of the original 27 California counties. The City of Sacramento, the largest of the County's six cities, is the capital of the State of California. Sacramento County sits in the heart of the most productive agricultural land in the nation, is bounded by the largest rivers in the State, and is at the intersection of some of the nation's most important transit corridors. The County encompasses approximately 1,015 square miles, stretching from the foothills of the Sierra Nevada nearly to the San Francisco Bay.

The County's five-member Board of Supervisors administers a over $1.9 billion dollar budget, and provides services for an unincorporated population of over 545,300 (one of the largest in the nation), and an incorporated population of 734,600 with a total population of 1,279,900.

Sacramento County is the center of commerce for the Central Valley. Trade and services, federal, state and local government, high tech and food processing are the most prominent economic sectors. The unlimited access to transportation, skilled labor, and affordable housing allows Sacramento County to successfully compete for new and relocating industry.

Yolo County is an agriculturally based county made up of four cities (Woodland, Davis, West Sacramento, Winters), the unincorporated county, and the campus of one of the state's most popular UC campuses, UC Davis. Most of the county's population of 181,300 resides within the incorporated areas. Within the cities, in addition to commercial and industrial uses, the economies are diversified into small retail and service sectors. Woodland and West Sacramento have traditional industrial uses such as distribution and manufacturing. West Sacramento is home to the Port of Sacramento, the California Fuel Cell Partnership, and Dade Microscan, a leading biotech company. Davis retains a related service and technology focus that is based around the University of California. UC Davis has one of the fastest growing and largest university research budgets in the nation at $426 million. Winters possesses an agricultural industrial and downtown retail business focus. The unincorporated area includes a number of small towns with adjacent agricultural industrial and service areas. Additional agricultural, industrial facilities and food processing plants are located in the cities and in agricultural areas.

A number of significant venues reflect the tremendous potential for Yolo County's economy. The location of the River Cats baseball team in West Sacramento has brought the popularity of minor league baseball to the area. The transformation of the Cache Creek Indian Casino and Bingo, located in the Capay Valley, into a major casino/resort, complete with nightclub and hotel, is proving to be a major destination for travelers. The UC Davis Mondavi Center for the Performing Arts is a first-class performing arts facility, attracting nearly 150,000 attendees from throughout the region in just one season. Additionally, UC Davis has major capital improvements in the works. There are 125 active construction projects in progress, estimated at more than $719 million. Another $178 million in construction projects are underway at the UC Davis Medical Center. Major housing starts are also expected for both West Sacramento and Woodland in 2005-06. Southport, a mixed-use development in West Sacramento, has plans for 14,000 housing units.

Access to transportation is excellent in the county with highway, rail, water, and air transportation facilities available within or immediately adjacent to the County. Yolo County's economy is primarily agricultural -- with a relatively high number of jobs based on activities relating to the production or processing of farm products. Annual agricultural production in 1997 was $335 million. The food manufacturing industry provided an additional $141.3 million in value. Most of the 653,451 acres in the County are in agricultural production. Seventy-two percent (72%) of the agricultural lands in the County are contracted to remain in agricultural land uses. The total dollar value of crops produced was $303 million in 2002 and the top 10 commodities included: Processing tomatoes, wine grapes, alfalfa hay, rice, seed crops, walnuts, organic crops, wheat, cattle and calves, and safflower. Other unique assets that support agriculture in the county are: The agriculture and biotechnology programs of UC Davis; the growing cluster of biotechnology firms; the seed industry research and production facilities; large and small food processors; and a number of growing wineries, including RH Phillips and Bogle.

Manufacturing industries in the County, as well as UC Davis, Cache Creek Casino, Yolo County and other governmental employers, provide a substantial number of jobs.

Other manufacturing industries include wood products, chemical, fabricated metal, and transportation equipment. The unemployment rate in 2002 was 5.1 percent, up from 4.8 percent in 2001. This compares favorably to the state's average unemployment rate in 2002 of 6.7 percent.

Yuba County is located 30 miles north of Sacramento. Marysville, the County seat and one of the first seven charter cities in California, is located between Sacramento and Chico. Considered the northeastern corner of the Central Valley, Yuba County's economic base continues to offer abundant agricultural crops and wood-related products in a rural setting. Incorporated February 18, 1850, Yuba County is one of the original 28 counties established in California.

Major transportation corridors include the north-south Highways 70 and 65, and the east-west 20, providing easy access to Sacramento's International Airport, deep-water port, and Interstates 5 and 80. The Yuba County Airport offers a 6,006-foot primary runway for local flying opportunities and features eight industrial parks.

A Small Business Development Center (SBDC) and Regional Career Center (RCC), located in Marysville, provide business with practical solutions and assistance, and Yuba Community College serves the region. A well-established and growing medical community includes Fremont-Rideout Medical Center and a state-of-the-art cancer facility. Active local theater and art groups thrive, service and social clubs abound, and unlimited recreational opportunities enhance the historic gateway to the goldfields.

The Sleep Train Amphitheatre features top-notch outdoor entertainment, and a minor league baseball team, the Yuba-Sutter Goldsox plays at Bryant Field. Superb golf courses include the Peach Tree Country Club and Plumas Lake Golf Course. Yuba County features recreational areas such as Bullard's Bar dam and reservoir, Lake Frances, Collins Lake, and over 25,000 acres of wildlife area and National Forest land. Numerous duck and pheasant hunting clubs can be found within the County. Marysville and Wheatland are the two incorporated towns in the County. Other historic communities include Timbuctoo, Camptonville, Camp Far West, and Strawberry Valley.

The Office of Economic Development facilitates business attraction, retention and expansion opportunities within Yuba County.

More tools. Better marketing. That's the philosophy behind Crocker/Flanagan's impressive success. From the beginning, the firm has incorporated advertising, public relations, graphics and marketing strategy under one roof. "With this approach," says Scot Crocker, "we solve marketing problems with the most effective tool in the toolbox."

Evidently, the thinking has proven to work. Crocker/Flanagan has quickly become the most talked about agency in Sacramento. Due in part to the impressive amount of awards they have won in every category, the real success story comes directly from clients. "These guys really know their stuff," states Mark Seidman, Marketing Director for

SureWest Wireless. "Very smart. Very creative. Very effective..."

Clients like SureWest, Kirkwood Ski Resort and Mountain Mike's Pizza make up an eclectic roster of businesses that keep coming back for more. But Crocker/Flanagan has diversified itself as well, reaching deep into the b2b sector as well as the social marketing side of government, launching statewide campaigns for the California Highway Patrol, Caltrans, California Community Colleges and many more. "We've got our brains cranking in just about every industry out there," claims David Flanagan, Creative Director for the agency. "It's amazing how much you learn from one industry that you can take and use in another un-related industry."

Noted as one of Sacramento's Top 25 fastest-growing businesses, Crocker/Flanagan has tapped into something that certainly seems to work: Powerful tools, strategic thinking, creative solutions and a die-hard commitment to clients that goes far beyond a simple vendor relationship. "We become partners with our clients," says Crocker. "We get right down in the trenches with them and fight tooth and nail to make their marketing efforts scream."

The Diepenbrock Law Firm has roots in Sacramento, California's capital, dating back to the 1800s. The firm's civil law practice focuses on the acquisition, development and protection of properties, permits and business opportunities, as well as resolving regulatory disputes. Their mission is to help clients meet their business goal.

Members of practice groups use a team approach in order to serve clients with expertise and efficiency. The firm is organized into three primary departments including Natural Resources, Mining and

Environmental Law; Real Estate and Business Transactions; and Construction Law and Business Litigation.

The mining, natural resources and environmental law group serves clients seeking the responsiveness and value that only a specialized group of attorneys can provide. Located in the state capital, they are close to the lawmakers, agencies and regulators that shape this complex and changing area of the law. Their expertise is necessarily broad, encompassing land use and environmental permitting, hazardous waste, regulatory matters, and litigation under the major federal and state statutes.

The real estate and business law group provides client counseling and transactional expertise in connection with real property and business acquisitions and sales, leasing and landlord-tenant matters, financings, land use, subdivisions, easements, environmental counseling, and the formation of corporations, LLCs, partnerships and other business entities.

The construction law and business litigation group offers a broad range of services. Their construction lawyers assist with contract drafting and interpretation, the perfection, enforcement and defense of liens, and complex construction disputes. Their litigation lawyers handle various civil matters, including contract disputes, business tort claims, and many employment law issues.

Diepenbrock Law Firm attorneys are actively involved in various industry associations, frequently speak at continuing education and industry seminars, participate widely in community and charitable activities, and serve as arbitrators, mediators, settlement conference judges, and expert witnesses.

Dome Printing has been offering high quality printed materials to the Sacramento business community for 35 years.

Dome offers customers the most updated technology and equipment to anticipate market demands and meet the exacting standards of their varied industries. The press room offers the versatility of sheetfed presses for producing marketing collateral and the high speed magazine and direct mail product of our two web presses. Dome features a full service facility from digital prepress to complete bindery services that gives its customers the security in knowing their products are fully within the company's control.

Founded as Dome Engraving by Byron Dome in 1914, the company was originally a trade house supplying engravings for local printers and newspapers. Purchased in 1969 and recognizing the potential in commercial lithography, the company shifted its focus from engraving to offset and, in 1972, became Dome Printing.

Under the direction of Tim Poole as President, Andy Poole as Vice President of Manufacturing and Bob Poole as Sales Manager, Dome Printing continues to stay in the forefront of the ever changing printing industry. Printing is more than a business at Dome. It is a way of life.

Downey Brand is the largest law firm in Sacramento and California's Central Valley. That have over 100 attorneys who serve clients through the Sacramento office, as well as office locations in South Placer, Stockton, Bakersfield and Reno. Over thirty of those attorneys focus solely on business transactions, with the rest practicing business litigation and natural resources law. Companies from almost every industry in the region rely on the firm to help protect and promote their business interests.

They focus on possibilities, instead of focusing on obstacles—a quality many of their business clients share. With practices in over twenty areas of law, Downey Brand has been growing with the Central Valley since 1926.

The Evergreen Company was formed by Dan Cole and Dan Petrocchi in April 1981. Ray Gundlach and Don Timmons joined as partners in 1983. Two additional partners, Ted Messner and Trey Gundlach, joined in 1997 and 1998 respectively. The partners' professional experience includes finance, leasing, income property sales, joint venture structuring and negotiations, property management, architecture and engineering, construction management and accounting.

The Evergreen entities have developed, renovated and purchased existing office, retail and warehouse property totaling in excess of 6 million square feet. With the exception of a few, most Evergreen projects have been joint ventured with financial institutions, off-shore trusts, and real estate syndicates.

The Company's philosophy is to construct quality buildings in excellent locations to be held for long term and to acquire existing buildings for resale.

Evergreen's joint venture partner is the Lewis Trust Group, Ltd., which is a privately held company headquartered in London, England. The company and its affiliates operate under the service mark Britannia Pacific Properties in the United States. Lewis Trust Group's holdings include retail stores, commercial real estate, hotels and a wealth management company. KPMG's Top Track 100 named them as the 65th largest privately held company in the United Kingdom in 2004 based on 2002 data.

Frank M. Booth, Inc., (FMB) is a mechanical contractor specializing in the fabrication and installation of complex mechanical systems for commercial and institutional facilities. As owners of Frank M. Booth Design Build Co. and Valley Sheet Metal Co., FMB successfully integrates an impressive combination of architectural sheet metal and design build capabilities with their plan and spec experience.

Founded in 1912, today Frank M. Booth, Inc., is the most comprehensive resource of mechanical contracting services in Northern California-Nevada for the design, fabrication and construction of mechanical systems.

With a 60,000 sq. ft. pipe and sheet metal fabrication facility, FMB is uniquely prepared to handle a broad range of projects in-house, effectively controlling cost, quality and schedule. FMB is ASME certified (PP, R).

FMB employs six registered engineers and four degreed engineers. The design/build team works with project designers, engineering mechanical systems that optimize indoor comfort and cost.

Decades of challenging projects in Silicon Valley, the San Francisco Bay Area and the Sacramento Region have given FMB unparalleled architectural sheet metal experience.

Projects are computer detailed and shop drawn, ensuring complete coordination with other trades and enabling FMB crews to efficiently install complex systems. FMB design/detailing staff comprises six full time detailers with up to eight on call, as well as many service contractors to handle special needs. Full time detailers are skilled mechanics who have detailed, built and installed complex mechanical work.

Whether clients are searching for a contractor for design/build or plan and spec, Frank M. Booth, Inc., is confident they will find "their performance builds relationships." ®

Harbison-Mahony-Higgins Builders, Inc. (HMH) is an employee-owned company which began operations as a general contractor in 1957, in Sacramento, California. The company has grown into a multifaceted firm focused on construction management and the construction of commercial, high-tech, industrial, and medical facilities. Throughout HMH's history, a tradition of pursuing innovative alternatives to existing methods of construction has been established. HMH's success results from combining its diverse experience with consistently high quality workmanship and uncompromising attention to client service. They maintain a balanced workload of negotiated and competitively bid contracts. They continuously upgrade methods of operation by staying current with market conditions and using the latest in technological developments and cost-effective construction methods.

HMH is known throughout Northern California for superior performance and quality construction. This solid reputation has been established by many years of fiscal responsibility, excellent rapport with public agencies and officials, community involvement and by developing and maintaining excellent client relationships. At HMH, the objective is finding the proper balance of economy, speed, and quality on each project to maintain their client's trust and to exceed their construction program expectations.

For over 35 years, Intel Corporation has developed technology enabling the computer and Internet revolution that has changed the world. Founded in 1968 to build semiconductor memory products, Intel introduced the world's first microprocessor in 1971. Today, Intel supplies the computing and communications industries with chips, boards, systems, and software building blocks that are the "ingredients" of computers, servers and networking and communications products. These products are used by industry members to create advanced computing and communications systems. Intel's mission is to do a great job for our customers, employees, and stockholders by being the preeminent building block supplier to the worldwide digital economy.

Intel's principal products and services fall into four broad categories: PCs and Enterprise Systems; Networking and Communications; Wireless Communications and Computing; and New Business Initiatives. Intel has 85,000 employees in more than 290 offices and facilities around the world. In 2004, revenues totaled more than $34 billion.

In the Sacramento region, Intel has been a presence for more than 20 years, growing to be one of the area's largest employers. Intel Folsom is primarily a research and development campus that is home to 6,500 engineers, technicians, sales and support staff. Seven buildings occupy the 200-acre site.

Kaiser Permanente is America's largest and oldest not-for-profit health plan and the nation's leading integrated health care delivery system. Founded in 1945, it is a multi-specialty, group-practice and prepayment program with headquarters in Oakland, California.

Kaiser Permanente provides comprehensive health care services to its members, including preventive services such as well-baby and prenatal care, immunizations, and screening diagnostics; routine and specialty care; hospital services; and pharmacy services. Three separate entities comprise the Kaiser Permanente program: Kaiser Foundation Health Plan; Kaiser Foundation Hospitals; and The Permanente Medical Group.

Consistently ranked high in independent surveys for quality, Kaiser Permanente serves more than 8.2 million members in nine states, more than 6.2 million members in California. Serving the Greater Sacramento area since 1965, Kaiser Permanente has grown into the region's largest health maintenance organization, with more than 632,400 members. It is the area's largest private-sector employer, with 7,283 full-time employees and more than 1,000 physicians. This makes Kaiser the largest medical group in the region.

Members receive quality inpatient and outpatient care at three hospitals and 8 medical offices in Davis, Elk Grove, Folsom, Fair Oaks, Rancho Cordova, Roseville, Sacramento and South Sacramento. To accommodate the health care needs of its expanding membership in the area, Kaiser KCRA 3 and KQCA 58 combine to form one of the strongest television partnerships in the nation. KCRA 3, one of the top NBC affiliates in the country, continues to set the standard for local news coverage as the dominant news organization in the Sacramento area. By offering unique coverage, such as Call 3 consumer reports, Healthwatch 3 medical reports with the area's only doctor/reporter, and investigative Wastewatcher reports, KCRA 3 continues to live up to the slogan, Where The News Comes First.

KQCA 58, is one of the top WB stations in the nation. With the progressive programming of the WB network, and popular syndicated programming like Friends and The Simpsons, KQCA 58 has become the station of choice for younger viewers. From innovative programming like the Armstrong & Getty Show, to the area's fastest growing 10pm newscast, KQCA 58 is a station on the move.

Both stations understand that being a responsible broadcaster means more than offering just the news of day. It also means being an active part of the communities they serve. From presenting the KCRA 3/KQCA 58 Health and Fitness Expo, to sponsoring events like the Susan G. Komen Race for the Cure and Pacific Rim Street Festival, KCRA 3 and KQCA 58 are demonstrating their strong commitment to the community.

KCRA 3 and KQCA 58. Two trend-setting stations, serving viewers in the Sacramento area.

Kikkoman Foods, Inc., is a subsidiary of the Kikkoman Company, which is a Japanese company with headquarters in Noda, a city close to Tokyo, Japan. The original company dates back more than 350 years to 17th Century Japan. Kikkoman Corporation is a multinational corporation with more than 3,000 employees doing business in over 100 countries. The corporation has production facilities in Japan, Singapore, Taiwan, The Netherlands, Mainland China, and the United States. Kikkoman Foods, Inc., (KFI) was formed in 1972 in Walworth, Wisconsin, and is involved in the manufacture of soy sauce and related products. When the plant first opened, it had a capacity of approximately the same as the Folsom facility. That plant now produces 20 million gallons of soy sauce annually. KFI is the owner of the soy sauce manufacturing plant which opened in October, 1998 in Folsom, California. The Folsom facility is a satellite plant to the facility in Walworth, and has a production capacity of 5.2 million gallons of soy sauce and presently employs 32 personnel. Four of the employees are from Japan and 28 were hired locally. The facility is located on 50 acres and is presently under expansion, which will increase both the production amount and the number of employees.

Founded in 1972, AKT Development Corporation has become one of the largest and most respected development corporations in California. The company specializes in the acquisition and development of raw land in the Greater Sacramento area. The strategy of the corporation is to take raw unentitled land and work towards getting development rights for that land. Currently, AKT Development controls and is developing over 25,000 acres of land in and around Sacramento. In the past decade, the corporation has been responsible for the creation and entitlement of projects valued at over $3 billion.

Over the past 30 years in this industry, Angelo K. Tsakopoulos has been very successful in getting land entitlements. By utilizing an interdisciplinary approach to development, AKT often joins forces with nationally recognized land planners and consultants. By utilizing this approach, AKT has developed many extremely successful master-planned communities in the Pocket, Laguna, Roseville, Natomas and Folsom areas of Sacramento. In particular, the Laguna West project has received several major planning and design awards. This project, designed in cooperation with Peter Calthorpe, has received much national media attention including being featured on ABC's World News Tonight.

By having a strong community involvement, AKT has received the support of many community leaders. AKT Development and its owner, Angelo Tsakopoulos, have a long-standing commitment to the Sacramento area. They have demonstrated a strong community involvement and give generous support for charitable organizations.

Specializing in private and public architecture LPA, Inc. is recognized across California with more than 300 design awards, including pioneering contributions to sustainable design. As a forerunner for what is now statewide sustainable design standards LPA, Inc.'s work includes five LEED[®] certified projects in California. Since its inception in 1965, LPA, Inc. has established a reputation of quality architectural design in both Northern and Southern California with offices in Roseville in Irvine.

As a comprehensive design firm, LPA, Inc. provides architecture, landscape architecture, planning, programming, interior design, and graphics/signage services. Its client-inclusive design process encompasses K-12 schools, colleges and universities, libraries, city halls, community centers, corporate headquarters, retail, mixed-use and religious facilities; all benefiting from LPA, Inc.'s distinct ability to tie a building to its people and its place.

LPA Inc. is an architectural leader with a diverse client base in six distinct market segments including; civic, corporate, targeted developer, higher education, k-12, and housing. Service is the foundation of their reputation as a talented, professional design firm, with more than 80% of projects resulting from relationships with existing clients. Some of their most notable projects are: Woodland Police Facility; Witter Ranch Elementary; Natomas Unified School District; Toyota South Campus Expansion; Ford Motor's Premier Automotive Group North American Headquarters; California State University Sonoma; and Student Recreation Center.

The firm's experience has proven that engaging a large participant group in the design process ensures clients a building that represents their user community and enhances LPA, Inc.'s signature mission to create spaces and places that enrich the lives of those who use them.

Since 1979, The Mansour Company has been actively involved in the planning, development and marketing for more than 7,000 acres in El Dorado Hills. The Mansour Company's Master Plan has unfurled the creation of the Sacramento region's most desirable residential areas. The golf course community known as Serrano has won national recognition for excellence in planning and has become one of Sacramento's most prestigious communities. Additionally, Valley View, a 2,000-acre residential community — has been fully entitled and sold to various builders and are underway of being constructed.

After twenty-five years of entitlement and land development, The Mansour Company is well on its way of developing approximately 1 million square feet of mixed-use in the downtown district of the El Dorado Hills community. The El Dorado Hills Town Center with its Old European Village ambience pulls together a broad mix of uses including local, neighborhood and national retailers, restaurants and cafés, a fourteen-screen movie theatre, a hotel, a fitness club, luxury car dealerships, offices, broad sidewalks and public plazas, fountains, and walking trails around the lake in the center of it all.

In addition to the development of office and retail, The Mansour Company has begun the development of a state of the art 130,000 square foot self storage facility in the El Dorado Hills area.

The Mansour Company headquarters are in El Dorado Hills and is a family owned ran company with Anthony Mansour as the CEO and Louis Mansour as President.

McClellan Park with over 16 million square feet of industrial, R&D, office, aviation and mixed use facilities — plus its own airfield — is indeed California's unique corporate community. Owned-operated by McClellan Business Park, LLC, whose members consist of Kelley and Associates, Industrial Realty Group and Morgan Stanley Real Estate Fund, the business park conveniently sits in the middle of Sacramento and offers easy access throughout the region, country and beyond. This newly privatized master planned community has an established infrastructure built to support businesses of all sizes.

Naturally, McClellan Park also boasts a unique array of amenities that facilitate doing business in today's dynamic marketplace, including: airfield, Lions Gate Hotel and Conference Center, health club, daycare facilities, and much more. McClellan Park offers an exciting selection of distinctive spaces that are particularly well-suited to support-Aviation Maintenance and Manufacturing, Research & Development, Biotech, High-Tech Manufacturing, Warehouse and General Office operations. Since its formal opening in late-2000, McClellan Park has brought over 70 new businesses and more than 5,000 new jobs to the region.

Stanford Ranch I, LLC is a unique 3,500 acre master-planned community located in Rocklin. Stanford Ranch is now completing its final phase of development and has created one of the finest living and working environments in the United States. The unusual luxury of many years of planning is evident today as Stanford Ranch is home to over 14,000 residents, a Bel Air shopping center, three new elementary schools, a Junior High and a fabulous new High School. Commercial and industrial development has drawn notable companies such as The Gap, Oracle Corporation, Williams Sonoma, Educational Media Foundation (KLOVE), Pride Industries, DoveBid, Inc., Galil Motion Control, Financial Pacific Insurance, TASQ Technology, Verifone, and PASCO Scientific. In addition to the master-planned community, Stanford Ranch still owns and is developing over 200 acres of industrial and commercial property in Roseville and south Placer County.

McDonough Holland & Allen PC has represented businesses, public entities and individuals since 1953. During that time, they have forged strong, long-term relationships with their clients that form the basis of ongoing business partnerships.

With over 100 attorneys, they are one of the largest law firms based in Sacramento. Their offices in Sacramento, Oakland and Yuba City serve clients throughout California and in neighboring states.

The firm is the Northern California representative of the State Capital Global Law Firm Group, an association of independent law firms representing the 50 U.S. states, Canada, Mexico and a growing number of Pacific Rim, European and South American countries. Affiliations through SCGLFG enable them to respond quickly and effectively to client problems arising in out-of-state venues and to provide local representation to out-of-state and multinational businesses.

The firm is proud to participate in SACTO's effort to shape the Sacramento region's future. They are involved in numerous revitalization and redevelopment projects and have negotiated some of the area's more notable public and private development projects and real estate deals.

Miles Treaster & Associates (MTA) is a full-service contract furniture dealership. It established roots in Sacramento over five decades ago when it began as a family-run design business. Since then, the company has evolved into a professional 75-member team, proudly providing creative, state-of-the-art solutions for its commercial clients' office interior environment needs.

MTA is well respected in the area for the full service and quality products it delivers. From start to finish, projects are managed by a skilled team of experts who are knowledgeable and experienced in space planning, furniture recommendation and layout, delivery, repair, installation, move services and reconfiguration.

More than 1500 clients located primarily in the Sacramento area are included on MTA's project list. A member of the National Dealer Alliance, MTA can also assist in facility renovation and relocation on a nationwide basis by networking with associated dealers in all 50 states.

MTA's clients may choose from a full range of interior office furnishings, including modular systems, casegoods, seating, conference room furniture, filing and storage products, and a multitude of accessories. The dealership has exclusively represented Herman Miller, Inc., in this area for more than a quarter of a century. Additionally, over 100 independent furniture lines are included in MTA's product line, offering a variety of selections to meet budget, technological and personal preference requirements.

MTA's mission is to provide interior environment solutions and deliver exceptional value to its customers. By supporting their efforts to increase productivity and effectiveness, MTA can create a comfortable, safe and aesthetically pleasing work environment. Its own office space functions as a working showroom, highlighting the latest in office environment solutions. Showcased are furnishings, interior finishes and enhancements that address such technological issues as ergonomics, teaming and technology integration. The inclusion of the warehouse facility at the same location serves to increase operational efficiency and promote its teamwork philosophy.

Pacific Coast Building Products was founded in 1953 by Fred Anderson when he opened a lumberyard in Sacramento he aptly named Anderson Lumber. That single lumberyard with four employees would become what it is today: A company with 3,500 employees with locations (over 70) in almost all the western states, including Hawaii, and two manufacturing locations in Canada.

Pacific Coast Building Products is the parent company of Pacific Coast Supply, LLC (PCS), Pabco Building Products, LLC, Alcal-Arcade Contracting, Inc., Basalite Concrete Products, LLC and Material Transport, Inc. PCS operates Pacific Supply, Anderson Lumber and Truss, Camellia Valley Supply and Diamond Pacific. Pabco Building Products has various manufacturing divisions which include Gladding, McBean, H.C. Muddox, Pabco Roofing, Pabco Paper and Pabco Gypsum. Alcal-Arcade is the contracting arm of the company and applies various types of roofing and insulation to both the homeowner and commercial customer. Basalite Concrete Products, from its sacked goods and beautiful pavers, to its structural concrete masonry, can be found virtually everywhere.

The increasingly familiar "house" logo that each of its companies prominently displays has become synonymous with its reputation for providing excellent products and outstanding service - two of the tenets that served as the foundation for the company's success in 1953 and remains so today.

Pacific Gas and Electric Company (PG&E) is a wholly owned subsidiary of PG&E Corporation and maintains its headquarters in San Francisco. 20,000 employees carry out PG&E's primary business- the transmission and delivery of energy. They provide natural gas and electric service to approximately 13 million people, or nearly one in twenty Americans, in their 70,000 square mile Northern and Central California service area. PG&E has a number of locally based economic development representatives to provide comprehensive services for new and expanding business facilities. PG&E economic development representatives partner with the local Economic Development Corporations in their service territory to provide these services. Their representatives can discuss the energy efficiency program options available to help building owners and designers to make a new or retrofitted facility as energy efficient as possible. PG&E also is administering a new statewide Self Generation Incentive Program to help customers installing distributed generation to meet all or a portion of their energy needs.

Resources Global Professionals is an international professional services firm that provides experienced Finance and Accounting, Human Capital, Information Management, Internal Audit, Legal Services and Supply Chain Management professionals to clients on a project basis. The company was founded as a division of one of the Big Four professional services firms in 1996 and became a wholly-owned subsidiary in January of 1997. Resources Global Professionals became an independent company following a management-led buyout of the firm that was completed in April 1999. The company completed its initial public offering of common stock in December 2000.

The company operates from more than 60 offices in North America, Europe and Asia-Pacific to serve its diverse base of more than 1,600 clients. These clients range in size from Fortune 1000 corporations to mid-sized companies to small entrepreneurial entities in a broad range of industries.

Resources Global Professionals assists our clients with discrete projects requiring specialized expertise in accounting and finance, such as mergers and acquisitions due diligence, financial analyses (e.g., product costing and margin analyses), corporate reorganization and tax-related projects. In addition, we provide human resources management services, such as compensation program design and implementation, information technology services, such as transitions of management information systems, internal audit services and supply chain management services. We also assist our clients with periodic needs such as budgeting and forecasting, audit preparation and public reporting.

Resources Global Professionals provides its clients with high quality service and a solid value proposition because it uses a relationship-oriented approach to assessing client project needs and implements programs using highly-qualified professionals with the requisite skills and experience. All of this is done at competitive rates, on an hourly basis rather than per project, permitting significant client control over projects.

Founded in 1973, River City Bank maintains assets in excess of $749 million and offers a full range of consumer banking services, along with business banking, commercial real estate lending and agricultural banking. As one of Sacramento's largest, independent locally-owned banks, River City Bank employs over 180 people and maintains 13 branches throughout the region, including Woodland, Placerville, Elk Grove, Laguna, Roseville, Citrus Heights, Lincoln, Granite Bay, Davis, and Sacramento.

One of the most prominent retail banks in the area, River City Bank also has a strong business focus and offers customers a full service Business Banking Department including Commercial Lending, Small Business Banking, Commercial Real Estate Lending, and other services such as lines of credit, cash management, online banking and merchant services. Personal financial services like checking accounts and home loans are complemented with services provided by the Financial Services Group.

River City Bank serves four constituents: Customers: Which are the only purpose of their business. Shareholders: They provide the capital for growth. Employees: Dedicated and knowledgeable in delivering financial services. Community: They recognize that they cannot be better than the community in which they live and serve. The bank has a 100: employee participation rate and donates over 10,000 volunteer hours annually.

River City Bank's Board of Directors and staff are pleased to join with SACTO in the commitment to making Sacramento and the area communities "the best place to live and work."

The System consists of Sacramento International, Executive and Mather airports and Franklin Field. International is an air carrier facility offering service on 13 major airlines to over 150 cities nationwide. Executive is a large general aviation facility, and Mather is both a general aviation and cargo airport. Franklin Field is a general aviation training facility with no based operations.

The Airport System is totally self-supporting, receiving no county tax dollars; all expenses are paid for by income generated from businesses and individuals who use the airports. A total of more than 400 people are employed by the System, which has an overall annual economic impact of more than $2 billion on the Sacramento region.

Passenger traffic at Sacramento International exceeded 9.6 million in 2004, an all-time high. In addition, nonstop international service to Mexico was added in 2002 with Mexicana Airlines. Non-stop service to the east coast is now provided by multiple carriers (jetBlue and United). Non-stop service to Canada remains a priority for the Airport System.

The Sacramento Municipal Utility District (SMUD) provides electricity and energy-related services to more than 1.2 million people whom live and work in Sacramento County. As the nation's fifth largest community-owned nonprofit electric utility, SMUD has a long history of low rates, reliable power, and community service.

SMUD rates remain among the lowest in California because its diverse mix of locally-owned power plants and long-term purchase contracts have mostly insulated it from the costly effects of short-term market price spikes. As a result, the Sacramento area is a relative bright spot in the West Coast electricity market.

SMUD also offers a wide variety of economic development and energy efficiency incentives and services. These include discount rates for companies that create new local jobs, business loans, site location help, and design assistance and financing for energy efficiency. As its motto states, SMUD offer "The Power To Do More."

Pacific Bell is California's largest telecommunications company and one of its largest private employers, with nearly 54,000 employees statewide. Since 1997, Pacific Bell has hired more than 550 new employees in the Sacramento area. The company provides basic and leading-edge telephone services and products to more than 18.2 million access lines throughout the state.

Pacific Bell provides a full range of telecommunications services including local and toll telephone service, wireless service, network access, high-speed data transmission, coin-operated telephones, directory advertising and Internet access.

In June 1998, Pacific Bell announces that it would offer a super-fast broadband technology -- ADSL -- to many cities in California, including Sacramento. Today, ADSL is available throughout 75% of the city of Sacramento, and by the end of 1999, nearly 75% of the county will have access to ADSL. This is considered the broadest single-state offering of ADSL in the United States.

In keeping with the Telecommunications Act of 1996, Pacific Bell has opened its market to competition. The company is currently working with the California Public Utilities Commission to offer long-distance service to its customers.

SureWest Internet, SureWest Broadband, and SureWest Wireless became part of the family of companies. In 2002 SureWest Broadband began marketing a progressive and exciting bundle of consumer services to select Sacramento neighborhoods and sub-divisions. SureWest became the only company in Sacramento offering a "triple-play" of digital TV (including video-on-demand and pay-per-view), high-speed Internet and telephone service.

Industry leading facts about SureWest include: it is parent to the largest incumbent local exchange carrier (ILEC) headquartered in California, SureWest Telephone; it has the largest number of fiber-to-the-home connections in the United States with over 11,500 customers in the Sacramento/Roseville corridor; it has one of the highest DSL penetration rate in the nation at 21%; and it is capable of providing DSL service to 100 percent of its service area.

Teichert, Inc., established in 1887, has been in business for 117 years and its current revenues exceed 600 million dollars. The company is headquartered in an office complex along the American River on the site of a former sand and gravel operation.

The company provides construction services and construction building materials to the private and public sectors in Northern and Central California. As a general contractor, the company has constructed thousands of miles of sidewalks, curbs and gutters, freeways, roads, and residential streets. The services performed include earthmoving, excavation, storm drainage, sewer and water systems, grading, paving, and general site preparation for residential and commercial subdivisions, commercial developments, office complexes, shopping centers, freeways, airports, dams, levees, driveways, parks, and recreational facilities. With over 100 years' experience, the company holds California State Contractor's License No. 8, the oldest active license in California.

The building products produced include sand and gravel, readymix concrete, asphaltic concrete, and precast from the company's plants throughout the Sacramento and Central Valleys.

Everything one loves about Las Vegas casinos can be found at Thunder Valley Casino, which offers 24-hour non-stop gaming action in a world class setting. Conveniently located only 20 minutes from downtown Sacramento, with over 2700 of the most innovative slot machines, more than 98 table games, a High Limit Gaming room, two private gaming salons, and friendly staff, it's easy to see why Thunder Valley is the most exciting new hot spot in Northern California.

In addition to fabulous gaming opportunities, a variety of dining experiences are available at Thunder Valley Casino.

Austins Steakhouse is a prime choice for upscale dining in a comfortable atmosphere, offering USDA Graded Prime Meat and flavorful seafood dishes, along with Sacramento's most extensive wine list. Guests also can enjoy Shanghai Fats, our Asia Bistro which offers Chinese cuisine, both traditional and exotic. For a more casual dining experience, the Thunder Café is the place to go for burgers, sandwiches, salads, pasta and more; as well as the "all you can eat" Feast Around the World Buffet, which offers Asian, Italian, American, Latin and Seafood selections along with freshly baked pastries and desserts. Or, for a quick bite, the food court features Starbucks, Gordito Burrito, Villa Pizza, Panda Express, and Fatburger. And when one visits Thunder Valley, the Falls Bar, an ultra-hip nightclub located at the center of the casino, serves top shelf libations and features spectacular plasma screens, modern furnishings, unique lighting and water fall effects.

The 20-attorney law firm of Trainor Robertson limits its practice to commercial real estate and business law.

The Sacramento-based firm includes the largest group of commercial real estate attorneys in California's Central Valley, and among the most experienced and successful trial attorneys in the region.

The firm is structured in five primary practice groups, including: Real Estate Transactions and Finance; Taxation and Business Organization; Litigation, Arbitration and Mediation; Land Use Planning and Development; and Property Management and Loan Enforcement.

The firm's philosophy is simple: By working closely with their clients, they develop and pursue an enterprising, aggressive approach for the prompt realization of their goals. They use a team effort to capitalize on the specific talents of each member of the firm for the benefit of the client.

It is the goal of the firm to develop creative legal strategies that meet and exceed the needs of its clients.

UC Davis Health System is an integrated, academic health system encompassing UC Davis Medical Center, UC Davis School of Medicine and the 550-member physician group known as UC Davis Medical Group.

Consistently ranked as one of the nation's best primary care medical schools and best hospitals, UC Davis Health System has established itself as a national leader in telehealth, rural medicine, trauma and emergency medicine, and primary care. UC Davis Health System is the leading tertiary care provider for a 33-county region of northern California, offering a full range of patient care, teaching and research programs.

UC Davis Medical Center's 528-bed, acute-care hospital and its affiliated outpatient centers, including a primary care network of physician practices in 15 Northern California communities, have more than 1-million patient visits annually. UC Davis Medical Center offers the region's only level I trauma center, pediatric emergency department and level-I pediatric trauma center. It also encompasses UC Davis Children's Hospital, Sacramento's only comprehensive children's hospital, providing care for more than 30,000 critically ill and injured children annually. The UC Davis Cancer Center offers the latest in cancer therapies, access to national clinical trials and a robust cancer research program. Other clinical specialties include women's health, transplantation, heart care — including the region's only women's heart center and chest-pain emergency room — and one of the nation's best Telemedicine programs. UC Davis Medical Center is recognized as one of the nation's best hospitals in five specialties and is one of only 15 hospitals in America designated a "magnet center of nursing excellence" by the American Nurses Credentialing Center.

Research strengths at the UC Davis School of Medicine include functional genomics and mouse biology, comparative medicine, aging, combinatorial chemistry, nutrition and nutraceuticals, and neuroscience and developmental disorders, among many others.

UC Davis ranks 16th among comprehensive public universities nationwide by the National Research Council, 15th in research funding among U.S. universities by the National Science Foundation and 11th among public universities nationwide by U.S. News and World Report. The campus is a member of the Association of American Universities, one of just 62 institutions of higher learning admitted to this distinguished group.

UC Davis encompasses the colleges of Letters and Science, Engineering and Agricultural and Environmental Sciences; professional schools in law, management, medicine and veterinary medicine; and a new School of Education. It also operates the UC Davis Medical Center in Sacramento, along with a network of primary care physician practices and affiliated community hospitals.

More than $1 billion in new facilities will be constructed this next decade to meet enrollment demand and increasing numbers of faculty and staff. The Mondavi Center opened in fall 2002, bringing to the Sacramento region internationally known artists and speakers and showcases offerings of the university's performing arts departments, and planning is under way for the Robert Mondavi Institute for Wine and Food Science.

Public service and community outreach are part of UC Davis' land-grant heritage. The campus partners with local school districts to improve K-12 education and enrolls more than 75,000 participants yearly in UC Davis Extension courses. UC Davis Cooperative Extension specialists assist the public with nutrition, home, garden and farm-related Wells Fargo is a financial services company — large, diversified, dynamic and innovative. They are much more than a bank. They are committed to selling and servicing all the financial products needed by consumers, small businesses, farmers and ranchers, non-profits, middle market companies, real estate companies and corporations. The corporate vision of Wells Fargo is simple ~ to satisfy all of its customer's financial needs and help them become financially successful.

Its product line is one of the broadest and most extensive in the financial services industry. In addition to traditional retail, commercial and corporate banking, Wells Fargo offers a variety of related services including mortgage banking, consumer finance, equipment leasing, commercial finance, securities brokerage, investment banking, insurance services, trust and venture capital investment. Their retail footprint now spans 23 states in the Midwest and Western United States. They now rank as the largest provider of online financial services in the country with over 3.5mm active Internet banking customers.

Wells Fargo is over 150 years old and is one of only a handful of companies in the US whose current mission stems from its company's founding and legend. The brand and the stagecoach are time tested, among the most widely recognized consumer symbols in the world. The stagecoach is the visualization of our values. It stands for speed, reliability, service, innovation, trust and for "coming through" for their customers wherever they live and wherever they want to go.

The Yuba-Sutter Economic Development Corporation (YSEDC) is a non-profit economic organization representing the cities in and counties of Yuba and Sutter. This two-county region stretches from just north of the Sacramento Airport into the foothills of the Sierra Nevada mountains.

In addition to its scenic beauty and excellent quality of life, the Yuba-Sutter region offers a great business climate. The area has one of the lowest, if not the lowest, tax burdens for business in the state, as well as plenty of available labor. The region's local governments are very pro-business, and prove it with quick turnaround times for permits and low impact fees.

The region has available land that will suit any use, whether it be for office buildings in Yuba City's award-winning redevelopment area, or a distribution center ten minutes north of downtown Sacramento. Recent projects include the Sacramento Valley Amphitheater, Yuba County Motorplex, and a major distribution center for SYSCO of Sacramento.

The Yuba-Sutter region also offers a California Enterprise Zone and a variety of other business incentives. It has a 6,000-student community college which offers numerous training programs for existing and new businesses. The area is also home to Beale Air Force Base, which is the largest employer north of Sacramento to the Oregon border employing 6,000 and the Fremont-Rideout Hospital, which employs 1,700 2,200 people and has recently opened an advanced technology cancer facility.

Please contact YSEDC for more detailed information on the advantages of the Yuba-Sutter region.
